iON

Capturing a light, youthful aesthetic iON is engineered for durability and longevity. The exchange of colors offers a custom appearance at standard production pricing. DE Design's customer support and design team is always available to help with the unique creation of your product.

Materials have been selected for their strength and performance characteristics. Quality core materials are surfaced in wear-resistant laminate and impact resilient edging. Metal to metal connectors ensure added durability at all connection points and allow for many components to be replaced in the field.
